

U.S. government obligations income information

Important tax information for 2025

This tax update provides information to help clients properly report state and local tax liability on ordinary income distributions received from mutual fund investments in 2025.

On the next page, you'll find a list of Vanguard funds that earned a portion of their ordinary dividends from obligations of the U.S. government. Direct U.S. government obligations and certain U.S. government agency obligations are generally exempt from taxation in most states.¹

Percentage of the fund's total ordinary dividends derived from U.S. government obligations in 2025.

A state or local tax office or a tax advisor can help determine whether your state allows the exclusion of some or of all the income earned from mutual funds that invest in U.S. government obligations. If your state allows an exclusion, refer to the next page for the percentage of ordinary dividends derived from U.S. government obligations that may be excluded for each fund that was invested in. To determine the portion of dividends that may be exempt from state income tax, multiply the amount of "ordinary dividends" reported in Box 1a of Form 1099-DIV by the percentage listed in the following table.

The amount of each ordinary income distribution you received is reported on your 1099:

- For Vanguard brokerage accounts: In the detail portion of your 1099 Tax Statement, see Details for Dividends and Distributions. For each fund, subtract from the Total Dividends and distributions any Long-term capital gains, or any Nondividend distributions, or both.
- For Vanguard legacy mutual fund accounts: See your 1099-DIV Box 1a, Total ordinary dividends.

Questions?

Personal Investor clients may call us at 877-662-7447 Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., Eastern time, and financial advisors may call us at 800-997-2798 Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m., Eastern time. Although our representatives are qualified to provide information about Vanguard investment products and services, they cannot provide tax advice, and nothing herein should be considered tax advice. You should consult your own tax advisor regarding your specific situation including if you're uncertain about the interpretation of a specific tax regulation. You can also find a variety of general tax-related data and tools at investor.vanguard.com/taxes or advisors.vanguard.com/tax-center for advisors.

EXAMPLE:

Sample index fund total ordinary dividends		Percentage of eligible income from U.S. government securities		Portion of total ordinary dividends that may be state tax-exempt
$1,000	x	0.41%	=	$4.10

In this example, $4.10 may be exempt from state tax.

¹ Investments in U.S. government obligations may include the following: Federal Farm Credit Banks, Federal Home Loan Banks, the Student Loan Marketing Association, the Tennessee Valley Authority, the U.S. Treasury Department (bonds, notes, bills, certificates, and savings bonds), and certain other U.S. government obligations. GNMA, FNMA, Freddie Mac, repurchase agreements (including those that involve U.S. government obligations), and certain other securities are generally subject to state and local taxes.
